Responsible Access

The Bookshelf · https://scotways.com/ken/responsible-access/

For learning how to use this page, see the explanation in the About The Bookshelf article on Ken.

The Bookshelf - Responsible Access

Responsible Access

- Publications on Responsible Access 1990-1999

The Access Forum (1997) Care for the Hills Guidance on the Careful Use of Scotland’s Hills and Mountains for Open-Air Recreation. Scottish Natural Heritage. ISBN: 1 85397 252

A code for walkers and visitors to Scotland’s hills and mountains prepared to help us care for the hills and to ensure that they remain in good heart for others to enjoy in the years ahead. Produced as a booklet and a leaflet.

- Publications on Responsible Access 2000-2009

Scottish Natural Heritage, (2005) The Scottish Outdoor Access Code, Scottish Natural Heritage

Produced by Scottish Natural Heritage and approved by the Scottish Parliament, the Scottish Outdoor Access Code provides detailed guidance on the responsibilities of those exercising access rights and of those managing land and water. By doing so, the Code provides a practical guide to help everyone make informed decisions about what is best to do in everyday situations, and provides the starting point for short promotional codes and more detailed advice. Download available

- Publications on Responsible Access 2010-2019

Paths for All, Scottish Canoe Association, Scottish Natural Heritage & Scottish Rural Property and Business Association, (2010) Using Inland Water Responsibly: Guidance for All Water Users, Scottish Natural Heritage

This Guidance is intended to assist all water users to share inland water in Scotland in such a way that the interests of all are considered and respected. The Guidance, developed through a process of consultation and consensus-building, aims to demonstrate how the different interests of water users can be responsibly, proactively and positively integrated. Download available